

EPA's New "Renovation, Repair & Painting Rule Are you Certified?"

What is EPA's RRP:

A Federal regulation called the Renovation, Repair, and Painting Rule (RRP) will go into effect on April 22, 2010. It requires renovation and painting contractors and other trades who work in pre-1978 housing and who might disturb painted surfaces to become Lead Certified Renovators by taking a one-day course about using "Lead Safe Work Practices" on the job.

Who should take the RRP-Initial (RRP) class: Contractors who work in pre-1978 housing and who might disturb painted surfaces while doing plumbing, electrical, drywall, painting, tile, window replacement, landscaping, repairs, construction, renovation, remodeling, HVAC, demolition, plus many, other jobs. The RRP rule applies to people who work for rental property owners, schools, and day care providers as well as non-profits and government agencies.

Requirements include Certification & Training:

- ◆ Companies performing renovation, repair or painting work must become certified.
- ◆ Companies as a whole need to be certified.
- ◆ A company must have 1 or more Certified Renovator assigned to jobs where lead-based paint is disturbed.
